MEMBER OF:

European Council of Interior Architects

Nina Quinney is a native of Chisinau, Moldavia. She moved abroad at a very young age whilst working as a fashion model, travelling extensively, apprehending new cultures and getting inspiration from style, architecture and design of various parts of the world She currently resides on the Lake Maggiore shore in Italy, a truly enchanting place that she calls home. The passion for interior design goes back a long way for her, but it truly sparked when she first moved to Milan in the early 2000. Throughout the years she has cultivated her passion for design, at first working for an Italian lighting and furniture design company and later embarking on a long journey in the field of property development where she was involved in several projects in Canada, Havana Cuba and nonetheless in Italy.

Nina has a Batchelor of Arts degree from The Open University of Milton Keynes in the UK and later obtained her Masters in Interior Design from The Italian Design Institute of Milan, time during which she perfected her skills under close supervision of the Italian Architects Marco Amadio, Studio Marco Piva and Interior Designer Roberto Di Stefano.

Today she designs interiors that reflect simplicity and style, warmth and cosiness inspired by minimalism, modernism and contemporary trends. She offers her services to Italian and international clientele.
